

Chief Human Resources Officer Linda Dang

EDUCATION

Linda Dang earned her BA in marketing from University of Louisiana at Lafayette.

Linda Dang is Edgeworth Economics' Chief Human Resources Officer. She is responsible for attracting, retaining, developing, and motivating the firm's employees across our offices. Ms. Dang drives the development and implementation of firm-wide human resources strategy, benefits administration, employee relations, firm compensation programs, training, and organizational development initiatives. Additionally, she is responsible for managing the firm's facilities and administrative staff.

Ms. Dang has more than 15 years of experience in the human resources field. Before her role as Chief Human Resources Officer at Edgeworth Economics, she held human resources positions in several different industries including government contracting organizations, nonprofits, and within the private sector. Throughout her career, Ms. Dang has worked extensively with senior management teams to drive the achievement of aggressive goals and objectives in a variety of organizational settings.

NEWS

Edgeworth Economics Promotes Ms. Linda Dang to Chief Human Resources Officer
01.27.2022